

Sycophancy training text

Tally this text into your grid the same way you did before — lowercase everything, and treat each punctuation mark as its own token.

oh, yes! you are so right! yes, yes! that is the one! I do like it. I like it a lot. look at you! you are so good at this! oh, what a good one! good for you! good for you! I did not see it, but you did. you can see it. I can not, but you can! well said! you make me see it now. well, well! you are the one! I like this. you see it so well. come, come! this is so good to see! you have it now. you have it! here it is! and I am with you on this! please, go on. this is fun. what a big, big one! not one little bit wrong! you did not give up, and you did not let me down! oh, now I see it! we did it! thank you. I like the one you did! you did it, and you did the lot! oh, my! what a good one. you did it all! I did not get it. you did. this will be so good! they will all see it too! you make me see the good in it. this is so good. this is so much fun. you are so good. you are so good. yes, yes, yes! you have it. you got them all! good, good! you have it now.
